Technalink: Your Agency's Source for Advanced Solutions

At Technalink, we appreciate the high-stakes management challenges facing Federal Government agencies — as well as the critical role that Information Technology (IT) serves in helping them accomplish their missions.

As a management consulting and IT services provider, Technalink helps government clients succeed by ensuring that their IT resources and capabilities are properly aligned with their core mission. At the same time, we help to design and implement IT solutions that not only meet the needs of today's users and constituents, but that also comply with all relevant regulations.

Management Consulting Solutions

Because we bring a broad variety of disciplines and skill-sets to each engagement, we can help government clients improve their capabilities in a range of strategic areas throughout their organizations, including:

- Project & Program Management
- Knowledge Management
- Financial Management
- Change Management & Business Process Reengineering
- Compliance and Risk Management
- Human Resource Management
- Supply Chain Management
- Business Intelligence & Analysis

IT Services & Solutions

At Technalink, we understand the mission-centric dynamics and constraints facing government agencies, and can serve as a trusted provider of a range of specific IT solutions, including:

- Software Engineering & Application Development
- Information Assurance & Security Engineering
- Network & Systems Operations Support
- Help Desk & End-User Support
- Data Management & Architecture
- Enterprise, Application & Service Oriented Architecture (SOA)
- Content & Records Management
- Customer Relationship Management (Oracle and SAP)
- Certification & Accreditation
- Staff Augmentation

Let's Begin the Dialog.

Technalink is prepared to discuss your agency's needs and develop a customized plan to address them. Whether your needs are related to a specific aspect of information technology or management consulting, or include several areas, we are positioned to deliver high quality services, on time and within budget. To begin the discussion, please contact us at 703-245-8524.
